ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Noga was born on September 9, 2001. I love critical thinking, designing UI/UX, writing code, analyzing problems, and solving complex problems. I have been obsessed with the idea of using software to solve practical problems. Technology and software engineering is like a never-ending puzzle that I am passionately engaged to explore and solve. I do believe in the power of programming to transform, simplify and improve the lives of people around the world
